WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

"Devil" Winston, who now has but little over a month to live, is a very wealthy man, despite his recent profession of religion.

A photographer recently went around to snatch his likeness, and "Devil" with quiet complaisance, consented to have his shadow taken. The photographer had him brought out into the corridor, and there took the picture. When he developed the plate, however, he found that the prisoner had moved, and that it would be necessary to take another. Yes, yesterday he went up to the jail to make the second attempt, but "Devil," in the meantime, had undergone a change of heart, and demanded money. He wanted $50, or, if no picture was to be had, the photographer withdrew, and postponed the picture until some future date.

A reporter subsequently saw "Devil" at the jail, with his huge feet sticking through the bars of the window, looking out into the enclosure in which the scaffold upon which he is to be executed will be erected.

"Hear you wouldn't let them take your picture," the reporter said to him.

"No," he grinned, "dat man ought to hab brought some money wif him."

"How much do you want?"

In response he held up his fingers, indicating that he had reduced the price to $2. As yet his picture is still unobtainable, however.

The thought has not only done incalculable injury to crops, but is resulting in great distress among the country on a point of depriving live stock of water. All the creeks are dry and also many of the springs and wells, and a great many of the farmers are compelled to drive their stock long distances to water them at the wells of neighbors. One farmer informed the writer yesterday that he furnished water for two of three of his neighbors, and that many others were put to great trouble to procure water for their animals. The dry spell has been so prolonged, they say, that a rain would now be of little benefit to the crops, except possibly to wheat.

Lawyers are often disconcerted in court by witnesses whom they have expected by cross-examination to bring out a story told on the stand by some of his other friends. It happened years ago, when the furniture in one of the West Court street resorts. He asked her every conceivable question and dwelt at some length on just where the dresser and washstand were located. Finally the witness became nettled and answered testily:

"Why, the dresser is right by the door—you know where it is, you've been there often enough!"

The lawyer was so embarrassed that the court made no effort to restrain the laughter that ensued, but instead joined in the mirth over the young man's discomfiture.

The Mayfield "Monitor," in commenting on a statement in the "Courier-Journal" to the effect that there were fifty-two blind tigers in Mayfield, takes occasion to say:

"The 'Courier-Journal' is doubtless correct about the number of the beasts in Mayfield, but the readers will be surprised to learn that any effort is to be made to exterminate them. The only time at which any demonstration is made in this direction is just before a race is to be taken on the saloon grounds. As soon as the people have said by their ballots that they do not want saloons the matter is dropped until another periodical 'come-on' comes. It would be a great surprise if anything was done now to break up the tiger business, as no vote can be taken for at least two years. Some day the people of Mayfield will awake and find that saloons have been voted on them, and nobody will be to blame but the opponents of the whisky traffic. The temperance people, be it said to their shame, have failed in every instance to make good their promises to break up the blind tiger business, and they cannot longer hope to secure the votes and influence of voters who are opposed to the sale of intoxicating liquors in any manner. Unless the temperance people of Mayfield awake to their duty they will have open saloons in their midst as soon as another vote is taken."

The "Register" today, Tuesday, publishes the result of the local option vote in Lexington county taken last Saturday. The same was published in the "Courier-Journal" yet the "Register" says a spook for publishing such an ancient history. The news did not reach the city until yesterday.

The section of City Marshal Collins in taking the doors and windows of a house in Fisherville, owned by a family of offenders, reported by the city, revives a story told on the stand by some of his other friends. It happened years ago, when the Marshal was "one of the boys." He and a crowd had gone to see some young ladies, who refused them admittance. The crowd was very hilariously inclined, and this rebuff aroused their good humored indignation. Led by the present marshal, the proceeded to strip the weatherboarding from the house, leaving the family on exhibition in a mere framework—all they had left of the shanty.

but speaking of taking windows and doors off somebody else's house a great many people have asked and wondered what particular law the Marshal was enforcing yesterday when he adopted this method of ridding the locality of obnoxious residents.

The bicycle race here on the 15th of next month should draw a bigger crowd than either Bull or Bill or any of the others. The greatest ones of the race will be here and the home crowd has gone to great expense to get them. If the meet is a financial failure it will take many a day for the boys to pull out of the hole, as the saying is. The country has been led for miles around, and the railroads have offered reduced rates from all the neighboring cities. The assistance, support and patronage of the home people is very essential, no matter how many may come from other places. The same celebrated wheelman whom many Paducah have gone as far as Louisville to see will be right here, and will race on one of the best tracks in the state. It will be the biggest and most important meet ever held in the state outside of Louisville.

It is told that the method of punishing street car motormen for reckless or disobeying orders by leaving them off is no longer in vogue on the lines. Superintendent Thompson's latest way of punishing the motormen is to put them in the Rowladown box for half a day, instead of suspending them from duty.

Gen. Weyler has issued a decree declaring that in future his position on the exportation of fruit from Cuba to the provinces of Havana and Pinar del Rio, Cuba. George Fred Williams was nominated for governor of Massachusetts by the silverite convention at Worcester yesterday. The report was at times so ridiculous that police were called in to restore order. The disturbing element was Co. Esman, a member of the "Silverite" club, who was backed from 30 to 1 to 10 to 1.

SKELETONS GALORE REVEALED.

Ethel Madden Is Recognized For Her Good Behavior—Other Solved Doves Up.

WHAT JUDGE SANDERS DID TODAY.

There was a highly entertaining session of the police court this morning. The most interesting case on the big book was against Ethel Madden, a cadaverous looking dame, who resides at a house of questionable virtue on West Court street. She was charged with threatening the life of Thomas Tisdale, a young railroad engineer. Attorney Mark Worton represented the defendant and Attorney Cross represented the commonwealth. The evidence developed the fact that the two had been "lovers," and that one or the other, it was difficult to tell which, wanted to get rid of the other. The only thing that could be construed into a threat was the statement of the woman made yesterday afternoon, in effect that she would do him harm if he didn't stay away from her. The woman recently attempted suicide. She is said to possess an income of $150 a month from an estate elsewhere, but this is likely untrue. The peace warrant was dismissed, but she was recognized in the sum of $100 to keep the peace.

The next two culprits were "Country May" and Nora Ray, whose euphonious appellations were pronounced by the court several times. He said he liked to hear such pretty names—names that rhymed. "Country May's" name suits her, so far as appearances, but in disposition and experience she resembles anything but the innocent, healthy country girl we read about. She and Nora Ray, who is a 17-year-old beauty with dimples, were charged with disorderly conduct in "The Can Alley," which is in the First ward. Moll Edwards, another defendant who caused the murder of Ben Ladd near Brooklyn two years ago, had not been arrested, and it is hoped she has escaped.

"Miss" Nora Ray said she was guilty of using profane language, and with a toss of her head and a curl of her lip looked resentfully at Officer Phillips, who swore out the warrant.

"Country May," who gave her last name as Oxford, said she had a one-month-old baby at home, but that she was guilty, too. The court asked her what would become of her poor, helpless offspring if he should fine her, and she retorted that she guessed the court could take care of it until she got out of jail. Miss Ray, whose sister has just been released from jail, where she was put for stealing $20 from a motorman, said she had no money, but the court knew she had put up $20 cash for her bond, and asked her about it. She said there wasn't but half of it hers, and that she didn't consider that her own after Marshall Collins said she had a great many people have asked and wondered what particular law the Marshal was enforcing yesterday when he adopted this method of ridding the locality of obnoxious residents.

The bicycle race here on the 15th of next month should draw a bigger crowd than either Bull or Bill or any of the others. The greatest ones of the race will be here and the home crowd has gone to great expense to get them. If the meet is a financial failure it will take many a day for the boys to pull out of the hole, as the saying is. The country has been led for miles around, and the railroads have offered reduced rates from all the neighboring cities. The assistance, support and patronage of the home people is very essential, no matter how many may come from other places. The same celebrated wheelman whom many Paducah have gone as far as Louisville to see will be right here, and will race on one of the best tracks in the state. It will be the biggest and most important meet ever held in the state outside of Louisville.

Joe Harris, colored, of Hamblint, Tenn., was given the benefit of the doubt today and the benefit of the doubt saved him from the penitentiary. He was charged with breaking into a stable and stealing some harness. He admitted to taking the harness, but denied breaking in. He was held for petty larceny, the charge of housebreaking being dismissed.

Dick Smith, colored, got off with a $1 fine for using abusive language towards a woman. Jeff Elrod was charged with an offense which docketed against a person. It cannot be detailed in print, but as he showed no intentional violation of the law, the case was dismissed.

The Labor Convention at Cile no will vote today on a report from a committee on resolutions which contains this paragraph: "We cannot tolerate the strike method." A vote to free silver prohibition was voted down by the committee. At the Hamlet race track yesterday the Proviso stake was won by the filly Alex's, owned by M. W. F. Schulte, president of the New Louisville Jockey Club. She was backed from 30 to 1 to 10 to 1.

Europe Demands It.
That which is likely to prove the last opportunity to see Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Circus of Rodeo Riders of the World will be when he comes here on Oct. 5.

Col. Cody is full of honors; he desires to travel and see the world; he has been satisfied fully and now his ambition is to get through with his traveling and settle down to the development of his million acres of estate in the Big Horn basin out in Wyoming. Only one thing has prevented him from doing so, and that is his word—a promise given to the French authorities, who have in charge the project of the next World's Fair, which is to be held in Paris in 1900. Just before he started upon his journey from Europe four years ago to go to the World's Fair at Chicago with his exhibition, he was asked upon his departure to what he would do if he did not return. He said that he would do as he pleased, but he would not fail to keep his word once given to anyone, and he would continue to keep it as long as he lived, cost what it might in comfort or money or ambition.

Of course it is generally known that his exhibition is regarded as the one great exhibition of all time, and not a week passes that he does not get a letter from some one over there urging its return. A great deal of money is waiting for him to go there and get it, and it is quite likely that at the end of this year he will be seen again crossing the Atlantic. If he does go it is not likely that he will return until after 1900, and he has repeatedly said that there was where he would end his career before the public as an entertainer.

When he does conclude to return the world will never see the like of him and his exhibition more. Without such an exhibition is impossible. The time and the conditions have so changed that the actors in the "rehearsal" drama which he so perfectly portrays will have passed away. Certainly this has chance to see this historic American romance and reality would not be missed.

DRIFTWOOD
Saved From the Waters, Corralled on the Levee.

The Clyde is due from St. Louis. The steamer Tennessee is due here tonight on the Tennessee river.

The W. K. Phillips cleared for Cairo this morning at 8:00, doing a fair business.

The Charlotte Boeckler is stuck on a bar between here and Cairo. She is away over due here.

The H. W. Barhoff arrived here from Evansville late yesterday afternoon and left on her return up the Ohio at 8 p. m.

The tugboat Charlotte Boeckler which is to do some work in the Tennessee river and which was due here yesterday from St. Louis, had been reported here at noon.

Business was dead on the water this morning. The towing and the steaming being the only business in the river, and the only business in the river seems to be at present a thing of the past.

Large numbers of the people here are enjoying themselves in the trip to the Exposition. The government is doing its best to keep the river open, and it is doing so.

Errors of refraction of the eyes are daily assuming more importance and are engaging more and more the attention of the optician. Even the able is becoming interested, and is discovering how much science is able to improve the vision and aid the defective eye to enjoy the beauties of nature in the same degree as the perfect eye.

It is a fact now generally known and conceded by all oculists and educated physicians that our so-called "eye diseases," as well as many cases of chronic headache, neuralgia and nervous prostration are due to irregularities of the refractive media.

Ready... For Fall

Every section of this store is crowded with new goods for your autumn needs. It's our fixed rule to have the price right; whatever the article, it must be right. We solicit your trade, and tender you our best services, and guarantee our prices the lowest.

BIG DRESS GOODS VALUES.
Glad we own them at old tariff prices. Art weaves in black dress goods and blue dress goods, and the newest mixed combinations and plain serges, henciettas, broadcloths and sackings in the leading colors for the fall. Our dress goods fabrics touch the top notch of elegance, and the prices are much below the usual. Kindly frequent our store, and we will make it very much to your interest in prices and quality.

MILLINERY.
In the millinery section is a collection of tasteful, elegant, latest achievements in women's headgear. A superb gathering of rich materials and bays and bonnets that will delight all lovers of the beautiful, and at prices that can't be nearly matched for such materials and exquisite styles.

FALL JACKETS AND CAPES.
A great gathering of choice styles, made by the very best of tailors. Grace and beauty will be found in the style and fit of every garment. The handsomest garments we ever offered at $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.50, $10.00 and $12.50.

UNDERWEAR AND HOSIERY.
We have outdone all our former efforts in gathering good underwear and good hosiery, to be sold at truly bargain prices.

Ladies' union suits never sold before for less than 70c are here for 50c. Misses' and children's union suits never sold before for less than 50c are here for 25c.

Ladies' vests and drawers for 15c and 20c that are marvels of goodness and cheapness.

We have gathered a great stock of the celebrated Oxy hosiery that can't be matched outside of this store in quality, and bargains at 12 1/2c, 15c, 20c and 25c.

Don't forget that our Model Form corset is the best on earth for 50c, $1.00 and $1.25.

MEN'S SHOES AND WOMEN'S SHOES.
Staple, serviceable shoes, made to resist the hard knocks of wear. All shoes will wear out, but we put more real value in $1.50 and $2.00 shoes than it is customary to put in $2.50 and $3.00 shoes.

Our ironed school shoes at $1.00 and $1.25 have greater merit than any we know of on the market at these prices.
